WEST LIBERTY, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, DEC. 9, 1954

DR. DORAN SPEAKS AT LADIES' NIGHT OF KIWANIS CLUB

Schools Must Be Equalized at State Level, He Asserts

Describing the inequality existing between rich and poor counties in educational opportunities afforded their children, Dr. Adron Doran, president of Morehead State College, told West Liberty Kiwanians Wednesday that the only solution was to place educational opportunities on a state-wide basis.

Dr. Doran was guest speaker at the club's annual ladies' night meeting in Starnes' Restaurant. Because richer counties can pay better salaries, they have better-trained teachers, better school buildings and facilities and thus better educational opportunities than in poorer counties, despite the present State equalization fund, Dr. Doran said. He cited figures showing the disparity of opportunities of students in Morgan and Fayette counties.

Our schools must be equalized on a state level as the only solution, he said. Voting the overwhelming approval of the minimum foundation program by voters two years ago when they amended Section 186 of the constitution, Dr. Doran said legislative work on the solution had been completed. The job now is to find sufficient money to carry the minimum foundation program in effect, Dr. Doran said.

Morehead College, he said, is training teachers—mostly for West Virginia, Ohio, Tennessee and Florida—since many of them go there to teach because of higher salaries offered.

Dr. Doran was accompanied by his charming wife and by Judge and Mrs. John A. Keck of Sandy Hook. He was introduced by Judge Keck, a long personal friend.

Kiwanians and their ladies attended the dinner meeting.

President-elect H. D. Potter announced appointment of the following committee chairmen for next year—

Attention—Woodrow Stamper
Public Relations—Sonny Rose
Inter-Club—Dr. Alice Spencer
Key Club—Andy Walter
Education and Fellowship—Bernard E. Whitt

The organization meeting was held at the home of H. D. Potter Tuesday evening. James Elam was re-elected secretary of the club, and it was decided the regular monthly board meetings will be held the first Monday in each month. It was decided to invite and accept five new members for the year. The new officers are to be installed the last meeting in December, and will be H. D. Potter, president; Walter Franklin, vice president; James Elam, secretary. The board of directors is composed of Dr. Ralph Gullett, Blaine Nickell, Woodrow Barber, Paul Williams, Lloyd Patterson, Andy Walter and Homer Rose, Jr.

MORGAN COUNTRY BY CHOICE TELLS OF HER IMPRESSION OF HER

By Mrs. W. H. Wells, W. Liberty

A short time ago I was telling you how much I enjoyed reading letters to you from so many folks that once made West Liberty and Morgan county their home. I also told you that some time I was going to write you a letter telling you what it meant to me, as a grader, although our crop didn't bring the high average of $83.00 as the 1953 crop from the same land did. Due to heavy rains this season we had quite a bit of damaged tobacco, which, with pleasure, we received an average of $57.47 per hundred pounds.

Having only 3 (eight-tenths) of an acre base on our farm, we have been share cropping which has caused a lot of extra work, so trying to find an easier way, I went to the Morgan County A.S.C. board and asked Miss Gladys Nickell, office manager, about getting more base on our farm. Miss Nickell gave me some very interesting information. But the words took root and started growing. And this trip to the warehouse proved this information to be correct.

I, being not only a tobacco grader but a helper from the time the tobacco beds are prepared, until the crops are sold, find that, before we can do our best grading we have to know our tobacco from the seedbed, seed, soil and cultivation, topping, suckering, priming, cutting, haul-

Fair Board Discusses Plans For Improving Fair At Meet Here

The Morgan County Fair Board met in the courthouse Tuesday evening.

Those attending the meeting were R. Gay Blair, Berlyn Brown, Curtis Elliott, Carl Sinclair, Glen Lacy, Mr. and Mrs. Estill Steele, Florence McGuire, Mrs. Roy Nickell, Richard Caskey and Marie Franklin.

The department head superintendents discussed and made suggestions for improvements in their departments for the 1955 fair.

Glenn Lacy, livestock department superintendent, reported that the Morgan County Hereford Breeders had voted to allow $100 for prizes for 4-H and FFA Hereford calves that are sired by a Hereford bull. The fair board voted to instruct the county agent to contact the Animal Husbandry Department at University of Kentucky to send a beef cattle specialist to judge beef cattle rings and that there would be only one judge.

POLICY IS FIXED ON NEW TB LAW

Arrangements have been made for the Julius Marks Sanatorium in Lexington to be the isolation center for "recalcitrant" tuberculosis patients if suitable local facilities are not available.

Under the provision of a law passed by the 1954 Kentucky General Assembly, a patient with communicable tuberculosis who is not following proper isolation procedures and is endangering the welfare of his family and community may be convicted of a fine not exceeding $500 or a jail term of 30 days to six months, or both, or if local facilities for his confinement are not available, the patient may be sent to the Julius Marks Sanatorium.

The patient when delivered to the hospital must accept such isolation on a voluntary basis as an alternative to confinement in jail.

Happy Names Morgan Campaign Managers

Former Senator and Governor A. B. "Happy" Chandler of Versailles and former Congressman Joe B. Bates of Greenup were in Morgan county last Friday and appointed Lonnie Smith of Wrigley as manager and Billie Elam of West Liberty as co-manager in Morgan county for Chandler's campaign for the Democratic nomination for governor. Chandler filed as a candidate Nov. 29 and is setting up organizations in each county.

Lawrence Wetherby said recently he would announce the administration's choice for governor soon but that it definitely "would not be Chandler."

Woman Helper Tells How To Grade Tobacco and Prepare It For Sale

Writes of Work And Visit To A Tobacco Auction

By Nora Easterling
Florence, Ky.

I wonder if the men farmers would consider a woman's point of view of raising and grading burley tobacco? I have helped raise tobacco for twenty years and have been a grader for fifteen years. But I had my first opportunity to visit a tobacco market last Thursday, when I went to the Home Tobacco Warehouse at Mt. Sterling where our small crop from Honeymoon Holar hills was being sold. My trip proved to be very educational to me, as a grader, although our crop didn't bring the high average of $83.00 as the 1953 crop from the same land did. Due to heavy rains this season we had quite a bit of damaged tobacco, which, with pleasure, we received an average of $57.47 per hundred pounds.

MORGAN LOSES 2; LOUISA TO PLAY HERE ON FRIDAY

The Morgan Hi Blue Devils tasted defeat twice this week losing to Hazel Green here Friday and to Paintsville Tuesday night.

Harmon led the Hazel Green attack on the Blue Devils with an explosive 27-point attack that enabled his team to overcome a 9-point halftime deficit and go on to win by a slim 56-55 count. Free throws proved to be the deciding factor in the contest as the Hazel Green lads converted 29 of 38 charity tosses while the Morgan quint was only able to sink 11 of 25 throws.

The Blue Devils dominated the field goal department with 26 to 22 for the visitors.

McKenzie headed the Morgan scoring with a commendable 17 point output. Stacy and Franklin followed McKenzie with 12 count apiece.

The Devils again found the going a little too rough at Paintsville Tuesday night as the Tigers came out on the fat end of a 72-54 score.

Although the Tigers built up a prodigious 19-point halftime lead, the Devils fought back to outscore the Paintsville quint by a single point during the final half which was only enough to cut the win margin to 8 points.

Had it not been for the fourth quarter the Morgan team might have really been humiliated. During this period the Devils scored 28 points which was more than the combined total of their opening three quarters register of 26.

Williams sparked the Paintsville drive collecting 20 of his team's 72 counters. McKenzie and Stacy led the Morgan point makers with 19 and 18 points respectively.

The Devils will attempt to get into the win column again Friday night when they play host to the Louisa Bulldogs. Morgan will travel to Sandy Hook Tuesday night for an engagement with Tom Adkins' Sandy Hook Lions.

RUSSELL HUNT TELLS WHY HILL BURLEY IS GOOD

The better quality of tobacco produced in mountain counties is due in large part to shifting to low-nicotine-content varieties and good topping and suckering practices, also a more favorable growing season than that in Central Kentucky, Russell Hunt, tobacco specialist of the Kentucky College of Agriculture, said this week.

Mr. Hunt's opinion was given in a letter to the local county agent after this newspaper had sought to determine the reasons mountain burley is being bid at premium prices by buyers who pass by Central Kentucky crops. Portions of Hunt's letter follow:

"It seems to me in evaluating tobacco from different areas one must take into consideration soil types, fertilizing practices, varieties used, and perhaps others in making an evaluation.

"The Extension program for the past 12 months has been directed to tobacco growers in an effort to inform them of the nicotine content of tobacco, and what to do to improve the situation by having less nicotine in the current crop than existed in the crops of 1951, 1952, and 1953.

"This program, as you know, started with the suggestion of using the lower nicotine varieties, including 41A and 35, decreasing the amount of nitrogen used in previous years; practice shallow cultivation, topping, and leaving two suckers in the top of the plant; and removing these immediately before harvest.

"Undoubtedly there was a determined effort on the part of many farmers throughout Kentucky to follow this over-all program. How well any individual followed it was dependent upon his ability to think the program through thoroughly and then to apply it under the conditions prevailing on his farm.

"Generally speaking farmers did shift to 41A and 35. These tobaccos increased materially with a corresponding decrease in Ky 16 and Ky 57. The cultural practices, in particular that of cultivation, were followed closely throughout the state, and perhaps the biggest single factor in making an evaluation.

"Nitrogen changes to ammonia, he cites, and is given off in the air as a complete loss when tobacco stalks are piled out in the open and subjected to rain and snow. For this reason stalks should be neatly stacked in the barn and left under cover until spring and hauled out and placed about six inches apart on the field or tobacco stalks should immediately be placed on a green growing pasture, or cover crop. The green growing grasses and legumes will take up the nutrients from the stalks as they become available so that no valuable plant food is lost.

"One ton of leaf will leave about one ton of stalks. A ton of tobacco stalks contains 60 pounds of available nitrogen, 15 pounds of available phosphorus and 70 pounds of available potash. This is the same amount of nitrogen contained in 1,000 pounds of complete fertilizer that is 6 percent available nitrogen. The amount of available potassium is the same as that contained in 900 pounds of 8 percent potash fertilizer.

Plant Food of Tobacco Stalks High In Value

Farmers generally do not realize the value of tobacco stalks, in plant food, for fertilizing pasture meadow or other crops. According to Asst. County Agent Carl W. Sinclair, tobacco stalks lose plant nutrients rapidly when left out the open in the weather.

Nitrogen changes to ammonia, he cites, and is given off in the air as a complete loss when tobacco stalks are piled out in the open and subjected to rain and snow. For this reason stalks should be neatly stacked in the barn and left under cover until spring and hauled out and placed about six inches apart on the field or tobacco stalks should immediately be placed on a green growing pasture, or cover crop. BANK ROBBERS GO ON TRIAL IN COURT IN BOYD

Swinford Overrules Move To Suppress One's "Confession"

CATLETTSBURG, Ky., Dec. 9 (Special to the Courier)—Trial of two Ohio men for robbing the Peoples Bank of Sandy Hook of $23,928 Nov. 19 got underway in U. S. District court here this afternoon.

The case had been set for 9 o'clock Wednesday morning but was delayed by a crowded docket.

Orbra J. Metcalf, 23, and Ernest Carter, 20, both of Germantown, Ohio, were indicted by the Federal grand jury Monday. They entered pleas of not guilty before Judge Mac Swinford.

The indictment charged the two with bank robbery and carrying away money insured by the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation.

The $23,928 taken in the armed robbery has not been recovered.

The motion to suppress evidence contained in a "confession" statement made to F. B. I. agents by Metcalf while held in jail at Louisa was overruled by Judge Swinford in a pre-trial hearing this morning.

The motion was based on defense contention that it was obtained involuntarily and that F. B. I. agents obtained the confession in violation of federal statutes requiring them, after making an arrest, to take an accused person immediately before a magistrate or a U. S. commissioner.

The District Attorney presented Lawrence County Judge David Whites who testified the accused bandits were brought before him within the prescribed time limit.

SHEEP MEETING HELD MONDAY

Richard C. Miller, University of Kentucky Extension sheep specialist, presided at a handling and management demonstration of sheep Monday afternoon at Hager Ray's farm at Sellers. Carl W. Sinclair, asst. county agent, had charge of the meeting and introduced and assisted Mr. Miller in the demonstration.

Those attending were A. B. Cecil, Hager Ray, Jasper Jones, R. Gay Blair from Farmers Home Administration office.

Mr. Miller said that one important factor in getting ewes in good condition for lambing is the control of internal parasites. The flock, both ewes and rams, should be dosed with phenothiazine early in December, but at least a month before any ewes are due to lamb. Fall dosage like that in the spring after lambing and free-choice feeding of phenothiazine and salt (one part phenothiazine to nine parts salt) from at least early spring until late fall should be a must for every Kentucky sheepman. One pound of French grade phenothiazine is sufficient for 13 sheep. Make a paste of the phenothiazine and use a total of one and one-half pints of water to mix one pound of phenothiazine. Mr. Miller advised following direction on the package. Give two ounces of this suspension mixture to each sheep. A two-ounce dosing syringe holds the right amount of suspension for a mature sheep.

Mr. Miller advised that fresh legume hay should be put in the racks each day at this time. Green leafy alfalfa or Korean lespedeza should be used. Five weeks before lambing, one-half pound of shelled corn per ewe should be added to the legume hay to prevent pregnancy disease, lambing difficulty and failure of ewes to own their lambs.

West Liberty Being Decorated Again This Christmas By the Woman's Club

Nativity Scene To Be Enacted On Public Sq.

If the Morgan County Woman's Club has its way about it West Liberty will be one of the prettiest towns in Kentucky during the Christmas season. Already the colored lights have been strung across Main street and plans are being completed to carry out the annual Christmas decorating contest, and to portray the ever-lovely, ever-sacred scene of the Nativity.

Mrs. Crystal Howard, president of the Morgan county club, said Thursday that the lights for decorating the town's main street had been placed and were awaiting the Kentucky Power Company's representative to come to West Liberty to set a power meter before they could be turned on.

"We hope to have the lights turned on this week, maybe tonight," said Mrs. Howard.

Mrs. Howard also asks each home to decorate lawns, doors and windows this year to enter the annual Christmas decorating contest, sponsored by the woman's club. A similar contest is being conducted for business places.

"If all the homes and business places in West Liberty cooperate in the decorating contests, we will have the prettiest town of all," she added that liberal prizes, to be announced later, would be awarded.

One of the highlights of the town's Christmas observances is the Nativity scene which is depicted annually in the public square. Mrs. C. K. Stacy, chairman of the community service committee of the woman's club, will be in charge of arrangements for the portrayal of the Nativity scene this year.

Beef Cattle Specialist To Speak To Morgan 4-H'ers Here Dec. 20

Carl W. Sinclair, assistant county agent, announces that Alton A. Parsons, who has a Doctor's degree in beef cattle husbandry from the University of Illinois and was a classmate of his in graduate work in animal husbandry at the University of Kentucky, will be in Morgan county for a meeting discussing selecting and feeding beef steers in 4-H club projects.

Four-H beef club members, their parents and leaders are invited to attend this meeting Monday, Dec. 20 at 9:30 a.m., CST, at the courthouse. All beef cattle breeders in Morgan county and all other agricultural agencies, business men, professional men, and any person interested in beef cattle and the selection and management of steers in 4-H beef feeding projects are invited and urged to attend an interesting meeting.

The film, "Texas Cowboy" in color, concerning beef cattle will be shown.

NEW DIAL PHONES ARE BEING PUT IN

Having already installed dial phones in practically all rural areas, the Mountain Rural Telephone Co-op has employed six additional telephone workers to rush the installation of dial phones in West Liberty.

All patrons in West Liberty will have new dial phones installed within a week, Woodrow Barber, manager of the co-op, said Thursday.

As soon as a patron's dial phone is installed it is immediately cut into the dial system. Meanwhile connection of phones on the dial system to phones on the old switchboard system is being done manually by operators in order to integrate the two types of service while the changeover is being carried out.

West Liberty patrons already can call dial phone patrons in Ezel and Sandy Hook but the connection between the two systems must be done manually and requires a little longer.

The entire three-county system will be ready to cut in next week, it is believed.

SOCIAL SECURITY FOR FARMERS TO BE TOLD AT MEET

Robert A. Flynn, manager of the Ashland District Social Security office, will explain the new social security law covering farmers at a county-wide meeting of farmers to be held in the courthouse in West Liberty Saturday, Dec. 18 at 1 p.m. The meeting is sponsored by the Morgan County Farm Bureau.

Mr. Flynn will explain provisions of the new law in detail and will answer questions of farmers. He also will have with him application blanks to give farmers so they can apply for social security cards. The new law placing the farmers and farm workers under social security becomes effective Jan. 1. Each farmer and farm worker must have a social security card after that date.

Those who are covered, and their employers will make regular payments to the Old Age and Survivors Insurance system—the OASI. In return, they can get monthly benefits when they retire at age 65; or if they die before that, their survivors can get monthly benefits. These benefits range from $30 monthly for an individual up to $200 monthly for a family.

All farmers in the county are urged to attend this meeting and learn the provisions of the new act.

MORGAN BURLEY SALES NEAR ONE MILLION THIS FAR

Price Averaged $51.88 Last Week, But Went Down To $51.17 Wed.

With mountain-grown tobacco bringing above average prices, Morgan county farmers have reaped over three-quarters of a million dollars during the first seven days of burley auctions.

First week of burley sales in Kentucky brought an average of $51.88, down $3.41 from opening week last year.

The state-wide average rose on Monday above last week's average but dropped back to $51.17 Wednesday.

With the government support price off 20c from last year, buyers dropped their bids from 50c to 37 a hundred on some grades as the market got under way Tuesday of last week.

But mountain burley, grown thin and light, was commanding top prices on every market where it was being sold. Buyers continued this week to bid up prices on mountain burley and pass by Central Kentucky crops which the pool took at support prices.

Until noon Thursday a total of 860 tobacco checks had cleared through the Commercial Bank here for a total of $776,212.47. Only a few checks from this week's sales had cleared the bank here at the time the report was made indicating that sales of Morgan burley had reached well past the million-dollar mark.

Totals of checks clearing were 57 more than at the same time last season and the total income was up $96,200 for the same period.

Observers now predict Morgan's tobacco income will reach last year's $2,237,000. The changed prediction is due to the premium prices mountain tobacco is bringing generally.

Among Morgan county crops selling above $57.50 since our last report are these—

Dorrie Henry, Wrigley, 2142 lbs., $60.45.
Elza Click and Langley Click, Wrigley, 1952 lbs., $62.40.
Emery Click and Clifford Howard, Wrigley, 4702 lbs., $63.31.
Walter Roseberry, Jephtha, 1128 lbs., $58.45.
Sanford Wallin, Moon, 1232 lbs., $55.08.
Kash Lykins, Caney, 1922 lbs., $57.00.
W. W. Fugate, Mize, 3122 lbs., $59.35.
M. G. Trimble, Carl and Verne Fannin, Redwine, 1242 lbs., $59.09.
Finley Gose, Woodsend, 1896 lbs., $60.40.
R. O. Prater, Insko, 2828 lbs., $62.87.

FLORESS—

TRAPPER GETS MUSKRATS, MINK

FLORESS, Ky., Dec. 7—Walter Easterling changed from hunting to trapping the last two weeks. So far his luck is good. He has caught 20 muskrats and one mink.

Mrs. Naomi Conley, age 85, went to a dentist in West Liberty Saturday and had a tooth pulled. She said it was the first tooth she ever had pulled by a dentist. It was her last tooth. She says she will go in two weeks and have her a set of new teeth made.

Dora Easterling sold her old Chivi and bought a Ford. Harold Frederick of West Liberty, Mrs. Chas. Frederick and Randolph, Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Cottle and baby of Cottle were last Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. Uly Easterling.

Cow Protects Quail

Quite a number of bird hunters came to Honeymoon Holar o hunt Thanksgiving day. Our kind old cow doesn't like dogs, so she chased them away. This might have made the bird dogs nervous 'cause the hunters left empty handed, except for one pheasant killed by Grover Frederick of White Oak.

I would love to send my blessings to the new son of Mr. and Mrs. James Brown of Fort Worth, Texas—James Edsel II, and the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Adkins of Cow Branch—Kenneth Wayne, who were born on my birthday, Oct. 21. They are the only births announced on that special date, you know.

Our new granddaughter born to Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Williams of Dayton, Ohio has been named Paloma Ann.

Peggy Sue and Danny Ray Williams have returned to their home in Dayton.

Billy Conley, age 3, was dipping gravy for himself, with poor results. His mother, Mrs. Essie Conley, age 21, said: "Let me dip your gravy, I'm the oldest," and Billy replied, "Why don't you get you a cane then?"

Mrs. Mary Henry of Cottle is a very jolly lady, and everyone loves to hear her laugh. A neighbor was passing and stopped to talk a few words. Then said, "Ah, Mary, why don't you get behind the house?" The pleasantly plump little Mary replied, "I am behind the house, that is just part of me sticking out."

Laura Williams, Dovy Easterling and Kate Williams were visiting up Honeymoon Holar on Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. U. G. Easterling and Dora, Clete Hackney, Walter Johnson, Cora and Auto McGuire attended tobacco sales at Mt. Sterling Thursday.

The last crop of tobacco from Honeymoon Holar, belonging to James C. Conley, is loaded on the truck and leaving for market today.

ALL-DAY QUILTING

The Ladies Aide held an all-day quilting Thursday at the Christian church, followed by a business meeting.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to take this method to thank each and everyone who helped in any way in the sickness and death of our husband and father J. I. Kash, especially Rev. Taylor, the singers, Potter Funeral Director. May God richly bless each and everyone.

Mrs. J. I. Kash and family.

The days are passing swiftly on. They're here and then forever gone. Each one should be of great concern. Because, my friends, they'll not return. The days are never minutes late. Nor do they halt or hesitate. If we're to use them while they're here. We need to watch when they appear.

The exciting new idea behind the motoramic Chevrolet

The Bel Air 4-Door Sedan—one of 14 new Fisher Body beauties in three new series

Maybe once in a car-buying lifetime, you come across something that breaks all the old patterns and establishes new ones. This is that kind of car. This is the true story of how Chevrolet and General Motors shaped a new idea in steel.

Like most good ideas, this one is pretty simple. Chevrolet and General Motors set out to build the first low-priced car that would:

- bring you the very freshest and finest styling to be had.
- bring you the most advanced engine design and engineering features.
- bring you the kind of performance and the kind of ride that have never been available before in a low-priced car.
- bring you the highest quality of manufacture and materials.

All this in Chevrolet's price field? That did take some doing! And isn't it logical that only Chevrolet and General Motors have the people, skills, resources and facilities, to carry out this exciting new idea? Here is how this new Chevrolet changes all your ideas about cars!

Real Show-Car Styling!

Your eye tells you the Motoramic Chevrolet is no styling "patch-up" job. A rakish, low profile... soft swiftness from its sleek rear fenders to its wide-eyed Sweep-Sight windshield... a new outlook for motoring. And that outlook doesn't change when you slip inside... exciting fabrics and trim are harmonized with the whole car.

A Sensational Ride!

You live the new idea instantly... you glide... actually glide because spherical joints "roll with the punch" of the road in Chevrolet's new Glide-Ride front suspension. And outrigger rear springs mean new balance in turns... turns made so effortless by new ball-race steering.

And when you stop suddenly, new Anti-Dive braking control checks that nosing down in front... you get "heads up" stopping. Tubeless tires mean much greater protection against blowouts. And with new high-level ventilation there's fresher air.

Drive with care... EVERYWHERE! Make December 15 and every day SAFE-DRIVING DAY!

Power Beyond Compare!

You also feel the new idea quickly... quick power like a panther's paw with the new "Turbo-Fire V8" (162 h.p.) and two new "Blue-Flame" 6's. And sparking this performance is a 12-volt electrical system giving you better ignition, faster starting, greater electrical reserve for any of the power assists you might desire. You have a transmission choice of economical Overdrive and improved, automatic Powerglide (optional at extra cost) or standard shift.

Even Air Conditioning!

And if you desire the convenience of power assists (optional at extra cost)... you'll find new power-steering and improved power brakes on all models. Power-controlled windows and powershift seat are available on the Bel Air and "Two-Ten" models, while air conditioning may be added on V8 models.

Won't You Try It?

Here, we can only tell you how successfully the Motoramic Chevrolet expresses the new idea behind it. But the car itself can quickly show you! Come in for a demonstration drive, won't you, first chance you get.

CENSURE MATTER SETTLED

It is ridiculous to say, as some of Senator Joseph McCarthy's supporters have said, that the vote to censure means a victory for the Communist Party and a serious impairment of efforts to investigate and expose Communism.

The Senate, along with every department of the government concerned with crime and efforts at subversion, retains every power it ever had to investigate any phase of our national life. The right of Congressional committees to conduct investigations and the desirability to do so was never at issue in consideration of the censure.

What was at issue was the behavior of one Senator and his attitude toward the Senate and his colleagues. His conduct was found to be censurable not because of his interest in exposing subversion but because his colleagues, including a majority of the members of his own party, believed his actions were undignified and reflected discredit on the Senate.

A few members of the Senate are avowed political enemies of the Wisconsin Senator. The rest, in both parties, would have liked to avoid the issue. To their credit it must be said that avoiding it became impossible they faced it with courage. Now they have allowed the fury to subside and the Senate to turn its attention to the important issues of the day that have tended to be shadowed by the household fight about Senator McCarthy.

There is very little difference in stumbling blocks and stepping stones. The difference is in the way you use them.

One girl to another: "Both he and his car are equipped with automatic clutches."

IN OL' MORGAN

the county. Roads that were impassable, now are roads that take you through the most beautiful parts of the county, so different from what they were. One day I wanted to go to Neal Valley to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mort Neal. I couldn't make it for the awful rocks and holes on the Wells Hill road and had to pay a man to drive me up the hill. Now you can make it in about ten minutes.

The crops have been equal to any raised anywhere in our state. We were so blessed during the past summer with good rains when others were suffering for want of water. I see the beauties of nature here that I have enjoyed more than I can tell you. The beautiful sunrises in the morning and the glorious sunsets at evening. The coming of spring on the hills. You get up some morning and you see the unfolding of the leaves on the trees that look as if a veil of lace had been draped over them. Then in just a few days the foliage has fully unfolded and before you realize it summer is really here. Its days are warm but wonderfully cool are the nights. It has been hard for me to decide which is the most beautiful in the hills of 'Ol' Morgan,' the summer or fall.

Just a few weeks ago as we drove to Mt. Sterling, going down the winding road to Frenchburg I have never seen the trees so beautiful. Almost every color of the rainbow. It is a rather hard job to be driver and not be able to look to your heart's content at such beautiful pictures. My husband says if I don't stop looking at trees and other sights on the road, I will find myself hanging in one of those trees some day.

All these wonders I see in my adopted home bring to mind the first verse of the 24th Psalm: "The earth is the Lord's and the fulness thereof. The world and they that dwell therein." We should thank Him each day for the wonders of His love for us. As the season of peace and good will draws near, may we have the joy of brightening other lives, bearing other's burdens, easing other's loads and filling empty hearts and lives with generous gifts.

With best wishes to you and the Courier staff for Christmas and the New Year.

Letha Nell Nickell and son Billy Lynn recently joined Arthur Lynn Nickell on the island of Guam. Since Letha Nell could not take her car along, she left it here and she and Lynn bought an "old rattletrap" (says her dad, Stanley Blair) to drive while on Guam. Letha Nell was having trouble working the gear and getting the car started, and Billy Lynn, age 3, was not at all happy at the delay in his car ride. But all were happy when Billy Lynn accidentally pulled on what apparently was the choke. The car wheezed, started, and then took off—thanks to Billy Lynn.

WOLFE WOMAN IS SLAIN BY SPOUSE

The body of Mrs. Imogene Sparks Spencer was brought to Wolfe County for burial in the Evans Cemetery. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Sparks of Rogers. It is reported that she was murdered by her husband Arthur Spencer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Early Spencer of Middletown, Ohio Nov. 26.

According to the Middletown, Ohio paper, the husband, Arthur Spencer, confessed to wilfully slaying his wife. He said that he had been drinking beer prior to his wife's coming home from work and when she came in, she aroused him by ruffling his hair and it awoke him and made him angry. So he struck her and knocked her across the room. She at once grabbed up the baby (2 months) and ran out into the street and began screaming. He says he followed her and picked up a wooden two-by-four and continued to beat her until she fell dead. The baby was laid on the sidewalk while all this was occurring according to the Middletown paper.

She is survived by her husband, her baby and a large family of brothers and sisters besides her parents.

HUNTING & FISHING

Report from Florida: The hunting editor understands that Paul Reed stationed in the air force at Tampa, and 7 others in his hunting party got 3 deer and quail and squirrels on a recent trip to the game reservation near Tallahassee. They were gone from Friday night till Monday night. That is far enough, that the editor cannot check for accuracy, but he did try to. When he called Tampa to get witnesses, Paul's wife Margaret said he was sick on deer meat and couldn't come to the phone.

Kentucky Farmers Borrow More From Federal Land Bank

Kentucky farmers have borrowed $3,882,300 from the Federal Land Bank so far during the ten months of 1954, which amounts to 40 percent more than they did in the corresponding period last year.

These figures were revealed by M. S. Kennedy, president of the bank, in his report at the annual shareholders' conference held in Louisville Nov. 22-23. Some 175 farmer-directors of National farm loan associations in Ohio, Indiana, Kentucky and Tennessee were in attendance.

Representing the Eastern Kentucky National Farm Loan Association of Salsersville at the conference were J. A. Lewis of Morehead and E. A. Cecil of Hazel Green.

Federal Land Bank loans totaling $21,352,500 were made in the first ten months of this year, Mr. Kennedy reported. At this rate the bank will lend more in 1954 than in any of its 37 years of operation except 1934. Reasons given for the increase were the 4 percent interest rate maintained by the bank in the face of generally higher interest rates and the squeeze put on farmers' net income by the lower commodity prices and high fixed operating costs. Dividends amounting to nearly a million dollars were paid by the bank during the past year, Mr. Kennedy reported.

Cooper, Clements Vote For Censure

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Kentucky's senators, Cooper (R) and Clements (D), voted with the majority last night when the Senate agreed to censure Senator McCarthy for his conduct toward a Senate subcommittee probing his financial affairs in 1951 and 1952.

Cooper and Clements also went along with the majority in rejecting the Bridges amendment stating that McCarthy had violated no rules or precedents of the Senate.

The two Kentuckians also were among those who helped defeat a substitute proposal by Senator Mundt for the censure resolution. It would have put the Senate on record as disapproving and disavowing "intemperate statements" by McCarthy.

The Senate also rejected a substitute motion by Senator Dirksen for the first of the censure provisions against McCarthy.

Jesse Stuart Recupercating At His Home

GREENUP, Ky., Dec. 7.—Jesse Stuart, noted Kentucky poet and author who suffered a heart attack at Murray Oct. 8, is back home in W-Hollow, which is near Greenup and coming along "very nicely," a family spokesman said tonight.

Stuart collapsed after a talk before the First District Education Association, was taken to a Murray hospital and placed in an oxygen tent. His condition was listed as critical for some time.

However, he recovered to the extent that he could be taken to Louisville for a series of tests by a heart specialist. He was there two or three days and came home Nov. 28.

Stuart, who wrote "Taps for Private Tussie," a popular novel in World War II, and other well-known works is under the care of the family physician, Dr. Chas. V. Ironton, O.

His doctor has prescribed quiet and rest in bed.

There is a better thing than the observance of Christmas Day, and that is KEEPING CHRISTMAS.
Are you willing to believe that love is the strongest thing in the world—stronger than hate, stronger than evil, stronger than death—and that the blessed life which began in Bethlehem nineteen hundred years ago is the image and brightness of Eternal Love?
Then you can keep Christmas.
And if you keep it for a day, why not always?
But you can never keep it alone.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

The Courier—
I always look to the day when my paper comes. It is so much fun to sit down and read the home news and almost like talking to some on the street. So many friends I knew. We are moving to R. R. 1, Willard, Ohio.

The Courier—
I'm so sorry I let my subscription for the Courier expire in September. As my husband and I both work, I guess I may as well say I overlooked my notice. Never have we missed anything so much as we have the good old Morgan county news. Enclosed is my renewal.

MRS. CLAYTON DEHART
225 Stewart Blvd.
Fairborn, Ohio

The Courier—
You will find enclosed my renewal for another year for my dear old home paper which means more to me than all other papers. I wouldn't miss one copy for anything.
Say I was sure pleased to read that piece that my dear old friend, J. M. G. Gullett, put in there in regard to S. Monroe Testerman. Though he passed away many years before I was born, my dear old dad, the late G. E. Haney, has sat at nights and told me what a wonderful young man he was. He said you had to know him to love him.
He said that iron stakes were driven at Lexington where he ran and hopped and that no one ever came up with it. He said he went to school with him. They would be coming along from school and he had seen him just barely trot and give a jump and dad said he had measured it a many time and that it would be 21 feet.
And the late Prof. Henderson also went to school with him. Dad said he was one of the best scribbles he ever saw.
Tell C. K. Stacy and Roland hello for me and give my best regards to every one back there.

RUSSELL HUNT SAYS

providing better tobacco in the mountains than in the Bluegrass was the rainfall from about June 15 to August 1.

"Much of the Bluegrass Region in this period was extremely dry and tobacco did not grow during this period, but undoubtedly did manufacture a large amount of nicotine and store it in the leaves.
"On the other hand, in much of the mountainous area tobacco had sufficient rainfall in this period to make for a continued and steady growth and undoubtedly acquired less nicotine under these conditions than if it had gone through the drought period prevailing in the Bluegrass region. The weather conditions undoubtedly made for a thinner, lighter tobacco in the mountains, and for a rather heavy-bodied, thicker leaf tobacco in the central Bluegrass area.
"Undoubtedly the topping and suckering practices were pretty well standardized throughout the Bluegrass area, so it is doubtful if this factor had too much effect in the type of tobacco produced.

"As I see the situation, good tobaccos produced in the mountains resulted from the use of the proper varieties, coupled with a more favorable growing season, and good topping and suckering practices after the tobacco was practically mature.

"It looks like then it boils down primarily to a condition more closely associated with a favorable season than with any other single practice of tobacco growing. As I suggested earlier, this is my own opinion about the case and it may be that still there are factors unknown to us that have contributed to the thin chaff tobacco in the mountains."

WOMAN HELPER

But they got a good price, as the tobacco wasn't damaged. I have seen graders put a tip leaf in their flyings because the leaf was torn or ragged. Some put bright in their lugs, because it will give them more pounds of costly tobacco. But, the most trouble I have is those men farmers wanting red tobacco in their bright, because it looks bright, or tips in their red tobacco because it is a long leaf.

I have learned by experience that a flying is a flying or first from the bottom of a stalk of tobacco. A lug is the next grade on the stalk. A bright is the next. A red is next, then a short red, and tip is the top leaves. But that depends on the way and when the tobacco is topped. On an average stalk of tobacco, I can shelly say you get 4 leaves to each grade. But, unless I am proved otherwise, I say put each grade where it belongs regardless of how it looks if it isn't damaged or green.

Those warehouse men all seem very cooperative and work together to give the best prices they can to help the farmer and save themselves. But I still stay the auctioneer should have a special cap.

I believe the Morgan County A.S.C. Committee would be willing to give out any advice the farmer would love to know about our crop. But, just a hint at what I learned from the office manager, was: We have to work at what we have to qualify for more, not just reach out and get it. And this advice I agree with heartily.

Wild Beast in Magoffin (Carver correspondent in Salsersville Independent)

There's another wild beast loose around Carver, according to our correspondent from that "neck of the woods," who states that this is the first that has been seen since once was seen about three years ago on Pine Ridge. It has been heard by different people on Bee Tree Creek and in the surrounding neighborhood, and the young boys are pretty badly upset about it, as they like to get out at nights and go places.

and that he advised them of their rights before Metcalf signed the confession. Judge Swinford then overruled the motion to suppress evidence contained in the confession.

At the examining trial before U. S. Commissioner last week, Robert W. Thompson, assistant cashier of the bank, identified Carter as the bandit whose mask fell off during the holdup. He could not identify the other accused bandit, but F. B. I. agents submitted a confession statement signed by Metcalf in which he admitted he and Carter were the bandits who took the money from the bank and escaped by a back door.

Thompson and his wife a clerk in the bank, were locked in the bank vault by the bandits but were liberated an hour later when a townsman worked the lock while Thompson called out the combination.

Carter and Metcalf were arrested at Zag, Ky., some six hours after the daring daylight robbery. George Lewis, 30, Zag, at whose home the pair was taken into custody, has been exonerated of complicity in the robbery.

Sheriff Aaron Lykins of Morgan County said Lewis was questioned at the time of the arrests but was absolved. He is free on $500 bond awaiting action of the Morgan county grand jury in February on a charge of possessing untaxed whiskey.

Dry clothes the ELECTRIC way!
easy 1-2-3

NO BEND NO S-T-R-E-T-C-H

Get rid of the back-cracking old routine of bend and stretch. Spare yourself the 100 lbs. of lifting that the average homemaker does with each week's wash...and the 1/2 mile of carrying. An electric clothes dryer makes it all unnecessary.

You'll be able to dry clothes in any weather, too...daytime or night. Clothes come out damp-dry (just right for ironing) or fluff-dry to wear or put away. Just set the dryer dial for the way you want 'em.

Nothing could be easier. And on budget terms an electric dryer is just as easy to own! See your electric clothes dryer dealer for a demonstration.
